WERE CAUGHT IN A FACTORY FIRE

And 150 Working Girls
Burned to Death.

GROSS CARELESSNESS CAUSE

Most Frightful Holocaust of Recent Years—An Investigation Started.

A RAIN OF FLESH AND BLOOD

New York, March 25.—Criminal negligence cost the estimated lives of 150 wage earners, mostly women, who were trapped on the top floors of a ten-story factory here late this evening. There were 500 in the building, and they had to choose between burning and leaping.

Three jumped and escaped; others were crushed.

Some escaped after they reached the stairways and elevators. The firemen and spectators were unable to aid.

Because the building was in the "high pressure district," and had exterior walls of stone, it had but one fire escape. That was an "inside exit," reaching to the seventh floor.

The three upper floors were occupied by the Triangle Waist company, manufacturers of women's shirtwaists, and employing 750 persons.

Fire Chief Croker places the responsibility on the city building department.

Shortly after 4:30 p. m. the students of the professional school of the New York University were startled by a crash of glass.

Immediately the first body fell, a young girl, apparently 17. Ten more followed.

Windows were filled with shrieking men and women.

Smoke and fire were pouring from the eighth floor, and nearly all on that floor jumped.

Usually the clothing was burned from their bodies before they struck the street. The first company that arrived had nets spread, and the chief ordered the women to jump one at a time, but mad with fear, three jumped simultaneously, which tore the net, rendering it useless.

Extension ladders reached the sixth floor, and firemen scaling the ladders were driven back by the fire. Scores of engines and thousands of spectators poured into Washington square. Women fainted and shrieked, and men wept and prayed as the bodies struck the street.

From one side 15 jumped simultaneously, and 14 were instantly killed. The 15th girl, aged 17, was taken from the pile an hour after, alive, but badly hurt. The nets were useless, and the bodies crushed through.

One woman's dress caught on an awning stanchion, and her body hung in the air, a living torch, until her clothing was burned away and she fell to the ground.

Two elevators, run by Joseph Zito and John Gregory, made a number of trips to the upper floors through the smoke. The flames finally crowded Gregory's elevator to the bottom of the shaft, and compelled him to desert it. As he left, six bodies struck his car. Zito made one more trip and got 20. The abandoned ones slid down the cable till their hands were burned, so they had to let go.

When there was no chance to save more lives, the firemen attacked the flames, and in two hours had them under control.

The bodies in the streets were covered with a tarpaulin. The injured were rushed to hospitals. The cause of the fire is doubtful. It is believed to have started from the explosion of a gasoline engine in the Triangle plant, based on the statements of the elevator men, that they heard an explosion. Harris and Blank, partners in the firm, deny this, and say it was caused by a spark from a heated pulley.

Relatives of the dead and injured rushed to the scene, crying and praying, and tried to break through the lines. Realizing that they must be cruel to be kind, the police forced them back. Many fainted.

When the fire was under control the building was searched. In the bottom of the "inside escape" were found a number of bodies, 30 in all being taken out, all being burned to a crisp.

On the ninth floor, piled against closed elevator doors, charred and nude bodies were found. It had been a struggle of the strong against the weak. All had been smothered. Blank and Harris, partners, were the last to leave the building. They tried to force an organized escape, but were unable to do so. Blank's family is thought to be in the ruins. Harris says most of the employees were Italians. Harris has collapsed.

District Attorney Whitman and a corps of investigators questioned everybody who could throw any light on the tragedy. Whitman said he was convinced that the holocaust was due to criminal carelessness.

One hundred and twenty-eight bodies had been taken to the morgue up to 11 o'clock to-night. There were then seven bodies remaining on the ninth floor, according to Chief Croker, who directed the work of removal. Three victims died at St. Vincent's hospital and three at Bellevue. One girl suffering minor injuries is insane from shock. There are still a number of bodies in the basement, but it will be impossible to tell how many till the water is pumped out. The subcellar is filled with water waist deep. It will be an all night's task pumping it out. The police estimate 150 lives lost and firemen say the number may reach 175.

The old covered dock of the department of charities was converted into a morgue. For hours vehicles bearing bodies rolled up before it, the bodies were carried inside and friends and relatives of the dead, who are mostly Italians, crowded outside. Force was necessary to restrain the crowd. Late to-night the police permitted the crowd to begin filing slowly through to examine the bodies, which were made as presentable as possible, and lay covered with sheets. In most cases ornaments only were the methods of identification.

PRAIRIES OF THE WEST PILED HIGH WITH SNOW

Omaha, Neb., March 26.—What promises to be the worst blizzard of the year struck Nebraska to-day and is rapidly sweeping eastward and southward. Already the snow is piled high on the prairies and railroad traffic to the north and west is seriously impeded.

The temperature has dropped steadily since 3 o'clock this afternoon, and within three hours registered a fall of 40 degrees. At 2 o'clock to-day there were no clouds and the temperature stood 70 degrees above zero. Shortly after a cool wind came from the north and before night a blinding blizzard of sleet and snow was raging.

At Neligh, Neb., three feet of snow fell during the day and Northwest-bound train are having trouble getting through the drifts. In that portion of the State telegraph and telephone wires are seriously interfered with.

Across the State line in South Dakota the storm is even worse than in Nebraska, the snow being the deepest of the year. The entire Black Hills are covered with snow and ice. In southern Nebraska little snow fell, the moisture taking the form of a heavy rain. The snow is confined to the district north of the Platte. Winter wheat will be immensely benefited by the snow and rain and plowing for corn will be expedited.

Local Talent Organized.

The Hartford Players Club is the name of the local talent company that has been organized in this city. They intend to give a play every few weeks and this new enterprise will be welcomed by every amusement loving person. They will give their first play, "The Face at the Window," at Dr. Bean's opera house Friday night. Those composing the company are: Misses Winona Stevens, Beatrice Haynes, Bessie Taylor and Nora Wedding; Messrs. Martin Thomas, Ellis Foster, Otto Martin and J. Ney Foster.

Judge Williams Killed.

Henderson, Ky., March 24.—J. Thad Williams, aged 67 years, police judge of Robards, Henderson county, Ky., was instantly killed late yesterday afternoon by falling from a barn on his farm. Every bone in his body was broken. He had been police judge only a few months. He was a prominent citizen of Henderson county. He leaves a wife and five children.

A FINE TRIBUTE TO JUDGE REED

From One Who Knows and Was Raised With Him.

IS RICH IN LEGAL LEARNING

Clean in Public and Private Life—A Leader in General Assembly.

FINE SPECIMEN OF MANHOOD

The Bowling Green Messenger says: The Paducah News-Democrat, his home paper, contains the formal announcement of the candidacy of Judge William M. Reed for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Kentucky.

Without being in any wise instrumental in the plan of bringing Judge Reed into the race, the editor of the Messenger desires to commend his candidacy to the good people of the Third-Congressional District.

Down in Jackson's Purchase, where both Judge Reed and the editor of the Messenger were raised, in the homely vernacular of the people, we call him "Bill," and it is likely that when he is nominated and elected there will be those who will stick to the familiar cognomen. But we desire to say that he is no counterfeit Bill. He is as genuine and as clean a Bill as was ever issued from God's treasury department.

Rich in legal learning, ripe in the experience of men who fight for principle, honest by nature and by a life of practice, clean in his private life and in his public career, he is eminently fitted to adorn the Governor's chair. Judge Reed never trimmed in any political gale. He always had his views on political questions and never hesitated to express them, whether they were popular or unpopular with the populace. As a member of the General Assembly, he was a leader. In the practice of his profession, he was ethical. As a Judge on the bench, he was as fair as he was firm. In the very height of what is called the night rider dispute, he was never known to swerve a hair from what was right.

In the very bloom of a vigorous manhood, in the full possession of his bodily and mental faculties, without any entanglements with political factions, without any promises to State politicians, he can enter the race unhampered and unpledged.

Moreover, if he is elected Governor, he will be a Governor that we need not be ashamed of. From Gotham to the Golden Gate, from Maine to Mexico, every Kentuckian can hold up his head proudly and say to all inquirers: "The name of our Governor is Judge William M. Reed, formerly of the city of Paducah."

Judge Reed does not know of this article. He owes the Messenger not a cent for it. All that we shall require of him when he takes his seat is that he shall be as unlike our present Chief Executive as the Lord will let him be.

Dies at Irvington.

Cloverport, Ky., March 25.—Mrs. Lydia M. Jolly, 54 years old, died after a week's illness of pneumonia at her home in Irvington. She was the wife of the late Senator R. M. Jolly, and one of the best beloved women in Breckenridge county. Mrs. Jolly leaves four children: Lewis, Edwin, Morris and Claire. She was the daughter of Mrs. W. N. Williams of Mt. Vernon, Ill. The funeral was held to-day.

Died at Barrett's Ferry.

Died at the residence of Lycurgus Barrett, Barrett's Ferry, Ky., March 22, 1911, Samuel Gentry, of tuberculosis, in the 69th year of his age. He was a gallant soldier of the 12th Ky. Cavalry and after the war went West and lived for about 27 years. Since his return he has made his home with his sister, Mrs. Lycurgus Barrett. After appropriate services by Rev. Henry W. Morton, his remains were laid to rest in the Gentry cemetery in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends.

Aviator Louis Breguet carried eleven passengers two miles in a monoplane in France. This performance broke the record.

CABINET OF DIAZ QUITS IN A BODY

Resignations Handed in After Conference.

ALL MEMBERS OF OSLER CLASS

Believe It is a Movement Towards Eventual Retirement of Diaz.

LIMANTOUR ONLY IS REMAINING

Mexico City, March 24.—The Diaz cabinet resigned in a body at a special meeting of that board to-day. The President deferred action upon the resignations.

The reason given for the action in an official announcement is the belief that it will contribute to the re-establishment of peace and facilitate the reforms contemplated.

Enrique C. Creel, Minister of Foreign Relations, presented the resignations in behalf of all the ministers. Diaz thanked the retiring members for their efficient and patriotic co-operation in the past and announced he would postpone his acceptance or rejection until later.

The resignations include that of Ramon Corral, as minister of department on governance, corresponding to department of interior in United States, but not as vice president.

Not one of the men who, until to-day, formed President Diaz's cabinet is less than sixty-five years of age, and a number of them are much older. With the exception of Enrique C. Creel, all have been members of the President's official family for a great many years, and this fact alone has been one of the grievances of the revolutionists, who insisted that the chief executive should surround himself with representatives of the younger generation, men more closely in touch with the affairs of the people.

Following are those whose resignations were received:

Enrique C. Creel, Minister of Foreign Relations.

Ramon Corral, Minister of the Interior.

Jose Yves Limantour, Minister of Finance.

Olegario Molina, Minister of Fomento.

Justo Sierra, Minister of Education.

Manuel Gonzales Consilio, Minister of War and Marine.

Leandro Fernandez, Minister of Public Works and Communications.

Justino Fernandez, Minister of Justice.

Without exception, these men have contributed valuable services to their country and to the President, but popular feeling against them has been growing steadily since long before the beginning of the revolution.

Jose Yves Limantour, who, it is reported, will be the only cabinet member to remain, is old, but is still regarded as one of the shrewdest and most able men in the republic. The three men against whom the masses have cried "old age" are Leandro Fernandez, Justino Fernandez and Gen. Consilio. It is an open secret that for the past few years their duties have been materially lightened on that account.

News that the cabinet had resigned spread rapidly throughout the city, and in all quarters elicited favorable comment. Many, however, would not go so far as to repeat the note of optimism sounded in the official statement of resignations that the retirement of the present ministers would entirely quiet the present discontent throughout the country.

Penalty to Soon Go On.

The taxes recently levied by the City Council of Hartford, are now due and I am ready to collect same. The penalty goes on April 1st. Please do not neglect the matter, but get ready to pay now in order to avoid the penalty. SAM F. RILEY, 10tf Marshal.

HE SOLVED THE PROBLEM BY A DESPERATE ACT

Chicago, March 24.—Already fallen far behind his playmates with whom he had entered school, and fearing that he would be unable to pass even the simple examination required of seventh-grade youngsters, Willie Shiel, fifteen-year-old son of Patrick Shiel, a wealthy contractor of Lake Forest, solved the grave problem of education to-day by ending his life.

Playing "hooky" for the first time in several fruitless years of endeavor in the class room, the boy stole back into his bedroom while the school bells were ringing, and sent a bullet through his brain.

A note, scrawled on a bit of wrapping paper, told the story of the losing battle.

"Father, forgive me," ran the note. "I couldn't get along at school. I tried my best and I couldn't learn."

"First, I bought poison, but I was afraid to take it. Father, you forgive me and ask my playmates to forgive me. I know God will forgive me. He will understand what I have been up against."

GENERAL ORDERS FOR MILITARY INSPECTION

The order includes all of the companies of the State. The inspection dates for Western Kentucky follow: Owensboro, April 4, Company C, Third Infantry.

Henderson, April 5, battalion headquarters and Company B, Third Infantry.

Marion, April 6, Company K, Third Infantry.

Madisonville, April 7, battalion headquarters and Company, Third Infantry.

Hopkinsville, April 10, headquarters band and Company D, Third Infantry.

Bowling Green, April 11, battalion headquarters and Company A, Third Infantry.

Calhoun, April 12, Company M, Third Infantry.

Hartford, April 13, Company H, Third Infantry.

JUDGE BIRKHEAD HOLDS COURT AT MAYFIELD

Judge Birkhead will hold a special term of court at Mayfield, Graves county, during this week. Judge Birkhead received a telegram Saturday night telling him that Governor Wilson was desirous of having him hold the Graves county court.

Judge William Reed, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, has been presiding as special judge at Mayfield.

Judge Birkhead took final adjournment in the Daviess Circuit Court Saturday noon, after having presided over this term for the past four weeks, but still he notified the Governor that if his services were needed, he would gladly respond.

PRAISE FOR JUDGE REED —THE FARMER'S FRIEND

The Owensboro Messenger says: J. D. Jeffrey, one of the best known farmers of the Eastern part of the county, was in Owensboro Saturday sounding the praises of Judge William Reed, of Paducah, a candid nomination. Mr. Jeffrey at one date for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Mr. Jeffrey at one time is a personal friend of Judge Reed. He declared that Judge Reed is "big enough to be President of the United States" and added that "he would make a good President, too."

Mr. Jeffrey said that he was especially anxious for Judge Reed to sneak in Owensboro, as he wanted all of the farmers of Daviess county to hear him. He said that the Paducah jurist is the kind of a man the farmers have been looking for to place in the Governor's chair.

Meeting of Co. H, 3rd K. N. G.

Company H will meet for reorganization at the armory in Hartford Saturday, April 1, 1911, at 7 o'clock p. m. All vacancies will be filled. The company will be recruited up to a war footing. Any one desiring to become a member of the company should report on this date. The service for the summer will be attractive.

Every member of the company is required to report on above date. JAMES M. DEWESE, Commanding the Co.

Meetings in Three Counties.

The Green River Tobacco Growers' association held meetings in Hancock, McLean and Ohio counties on Saturday, and elected a board of control for their respective counties, and also selected delegates to attend the district meeting to be held in Owensboro on Thursday, April 6.

MIKADO OF JAPAN SENDS MESSAGE

Of Peace to President of United States.

SAYS WAR RUMORS ARE FALSE

Expresses Courteous Feelings of Amity Towards
This Country.

CONVEYED BY BARON UCHIDA

Washington, March 25.—President Taft to-day received a rather remarkable peace message from the Mikado of Japan in response to the assurance conveyed to Baron Uchida, the Japanese Ambassador, at the White House last Wednesday.

The Baron had called apropos of the exchange of ratifications of the treaty recently negotiated with Japan, and the President took occasion to say to him that he placed no credence whatever in the persistent rumors that Japan was surreptitiously preparing to attack the United States, and that so far as this Government is concerned, it had no fear of the war scare that had been doing a lively business in various parts of the country.

Among other things the President specifically mentioned was the report that Japan was quietly negotiating for a naval base in Lower California, and this he emphatically discredited. The Mikado's message to the President was transmitted by the Ambassador this afternoon and reads as follows:

"To the President of the United States of America:

"I was greatly pleased to receive your very kind message conveyed to me through my Ambassador in Washington and I thank you for it. I was already well convinced that you had given no credence to the false and wicked reports regarding Japan, but it was especially a source of profound satisfaction to me to receive from you the assurance that the relations of amity and good understanding between our two countries were never better or more cordial than at this time. I am most happy to be able entirely to reciprocate that assurance.

"MATSUCHITO."

In making the Mikado's message public, the White House had nothing further to say than that it spoke for itself. However, it is the capstone of statements made by high officials of both countries to the effect that the relations of the United States and Japan were as cordial as ever, if not more so than usual.

It would seem that the assurances conveyed from Tokio this afternoon would serve to quiet the apprehensions of such Americans as have been led to believe that there really was ground for the alarmist stories that have been going the rounds.

TWO NEW STATE BANK EXAMINERS APPOINTED

A special from Frankfort says: W. F. Hurt, of Lexington, and Paul C. Spitzer, of Glendale, were appointed bank examiners by the advisory board of bank examiners which held a meeting in Louisville, Tuesday. The appointments were made public by Secretary of State Ben L. Bruner. The two appointments bring the number of bank inspectors to four in the State. Mr. Hurt was formerly of Owensboro, having been connected first with the Daviess County bank and later with the Mechanics Bank and Trust company.

Home Paper's Boost.

The News-Democrat presents the name of Judge Reed to the Democracy of Kentucky, and with it this paper's assurance that a better selection could not be made from the ranks of the party in the State to lead the united forces to victory in the general election.—[Paducah News-Democrat.

Tobacco Growers to Get Money.

Shelbyville, Ky., March 25.—The Burley Tobacco Society has notified their local agent that a check for $88,500, the second payment of 20 per cent. on the pooled tobacco of the 1909 crop, may be expected before April 1. About $30,000 of this amount will go to the banks and the remainder to the growers.

A Statement From Mr. Butler and Mr. Bond

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS AND DEPOSITORS
OF THE BANK OF CANEYVILLE:

You already know what a gratifying statement the cashier made you on January 1, as to the excellent and prosperous condition of your bank at the close of the year 1910.

It was so gratifying to your Board of Directors that they made a special request of the Secretary of State to send his Chief Supervisor of Banks down here to go through the books and have record made in the State Department as to the bank's condition and the manner in which its affairs are conducted.

In response to that request, the Chief Supervisor was sent here on Thursday, February 23, and in the presence of the undersigned, made a most thorough examination of the books, verifying every item in the cashier's official statement.

On completing his work he turned to us and said:

"GENTLEMEN, IT IS CERTAINLY A PLEASURE TO EXAMINE A GOOD BANK LIKE THIS.

YOURS IS ONE OF THE BEST OF THE MANY GOOD BANKS IN THE STATE AND YOUR BOOKKEEPING IS THE BEST THAT I HAVE SEEN.

YOU WILL ALWAYS HAVE A SUCCESSFUL BANK SO LONG AS YOU CONDUCT IT ON THE SAME CONSERVATIVE LINES YOU HAVE FOLLOWED IN THE PAST.

YOUR NOTES ARE SO WELL SECURED AND DISTRIBUTED THAT IT WOULD BE ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE FOR YOU TO SUSTAIN ANY LARGE LOSS.

IF I HAD ANY MONEY TO DEPOSIT, I WOULD AS SOON HAVE IT IN THE BANK OF CANEYVILLE AS ANY BANK I KNOW OF. WITH YOUR RESOURCES AND YOUR SYSTEM, I SEE NO WAY A DEPOSITOR COULD POSSIBLY LOSE A CENT."

And he is right. Your bank is one of the strongest financial institutions for its size in the State and we know that you will share with us in our gratification over its excellent condition and the many good things the Supervisor had to say about it and the business-like and conservative way it is being conducted.

As you know, the bank is conducted under State supervision and the books are examined twice a year by the special examiner as well as by the Board of Directors, in order that your interests may be thoroughly safeguarded in every particular.

The bank's success, you know, is your success. Every good word you speak for your bank and every dollar or bit of business you turn its way, tend to make it all the stronger and a greater power for good in the community.

Your officials appreciate your loyalty and confidence which have greatly helped them to build up so strong a financial institution in this section of the State.

Respectfully submitted,

T. M. BOND, President.

ED. BUTLER, Vice President.

Caneyville, Ky., March 1, 1911.

JUDGE WM. REED NOW IN THE RACE

For Democratic Nomination for Governor.

HIS FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Says He Will Urge Platform Convention—Will Make Active Canvass.

A MAN OF NOTE AND PRESTIGE

In a statement given out last week announcing himself in the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor, Judge William M. Reed, of Paducah, says he will urge a convention to draft a platform for the party in the coming campaign. "When this convention shall be held is a matter of indifference," he adds, "so it is convened sufficiently early in the campaign to be made against a common enemy, so the Democrats of Kentucky may be able to make their fight upon a platform there adopted."

Judge Reed is one of the best known Democrats in Western Kentucky, having served three terms in the lower House of the General Assembly from Marshall county and is now serving his second term as Circuit Judge of the Second Judicial district, composed of Marshall and McCracken counties. He is on the sunny side of sixty. His announcement had been expected for several weeks, during which time he and his close political advisers from Western Kentucky had held counsel with leaders from every section of the State.

Formal Announcement.

Judge Reed's announcement is as follows:

"To the Democratic voters of Kentucky: Believing that every man, at certain times in his life, must answer to the call of his country, whether it may be his personal desire or not, and having been solicited from every section of the State to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, and having been overwhelmingly importuned by the people of my immediate section and appreciating fully the honor it would be to any man to be the Governor of this great Commonwealth, after mature deliberation, I now announce myself as a candidate for such nomination.

"I shall endeavor from now until the date of the primary election to present my claims to the Democratic voters of the State so that I may, at such primary, be the recipient of the honor I seek.

"In seeking this nomination I do so with the full knowledge and understanding of the responsibilities which, by virtue of the high office, must of necessity be incumbent upon me if elected, understanding that in the immediate future of this State, the action of its Chief Executive will have much to do with its ultimate progress; and understanding that in a great measure the prosperity and happiness of her people will be promoted or retarded by the influence exerted by her Chief Executive.

"Being a native State, wherein I have grown to an age past the meridian of life, and in whose prosperity I have always rejoiced, I shall give to this position, if elected to it, every effort of my mind to bring this State, during my administration, material good. I shall tell to the people of the State, in addresses I expect to make, those things for which I stand and which I could not at this time elucidate to the satisfaction of myself or those to whom this is meant to address.

"I am a Democrat from principle and have always been, and one thing I shall urge as a Democrat and especially as a Democratic candidate, is that a convention of the Democrats of Kentucky be called by the governing authorities of the party for the purpose of writing a platform of principles so that the world may know for what the Democratic party in Kentucky stands. When this convention shall be held, is a matter of indifference, so it is convened sufficiently early in the campaign to be made against a common enemy, so that the Democrats of Kentucky may be able to make their fight upon a platform there adopted.

"I might say further that I belong to no faction nor have I ever belonged to any political faction in Kentucky. I appeal to all classes of individuals to give due consideration to my claims, and if upon due consideration it is the honest belief, and so expressed at the polls, that I would better subserve the interests of the State and of the people than any other who is an aspirant or may become one for such distinction, I shall feel truly grateful."

Judge Reed says he will make an active canvass of every county in the State between now and the date of the primary July 1, presenting his claims for recognition to the Democratic voters of the State.

ARE DISGUSTED WITH PROMISES

Diaz Has Made for Years And Never Kept.

WAR PARTY DEMAND CHANGES

In Government Before They Will Agree to Yield
Their Arms.

DEGREE ISSUED BY DR. GOMEZ

Washington, March 25.—Announcing that they will lay down their arms until formal negotiations for peace are under way, the revolutionary party of Mexico, through Dr. Vazquez Gomez, their representative in Washington, has issued a statement outlining the attitude of the revolutionists toward peace overtures and reforms in the republic. The statement says:

"The revolutionary party, which is constituted of the best men of the country, doctors, lawyers, artisans, working men and the like, are firm in declaring that they will not enter into anything but formal negotiations for peace. It cannot accept as a guarantee only the promise of a Government that has for more than 30 years been promising and has never fulfilled a single one of its promises. It cannot believe that the Government will change its methods or so many years—methods imposed upon the people by force.

"The revolutionists think, and with reason, that immediately following the laying down of their arms many of the leaders would die mysteriously, no reforms would be granted and the oppression would be greater than ever.

"For this reason the revolutionists will not accept as a guarantee the promises of the Government, because they know that none of them will be complied with. As little, too, will they accept as a guarantee Mr. Limantour, or any other individual, because one man cannot and must not serve as a guarantee for a political party fighting for the liberty of a people, and much less when such a man has been and is the right hand of the oppressing Government. "The revolutionists do not desire the complete elimination of the opposing party, because every one knows that it is necessary to have opposite parties in a nation in order to maintain political equilibrium and righteous administration.

"As little will they refuse to enter into peace negotiations for the good of the country, but they will not relinquish their demands that the lives of their partisans be guaranteed and political reforms carried out.

"The revolutionary party must be represented in the government of the States, in the Congress and in the Cabinet. It is well known that up to the present not a single member of the Cabinet or a representative of the people has ever made the least protest in regard to the great political abuses, the unjust imonments and the numberless political assassinations.

"For all these reasons the revolutionists will not lay down their arms until the time when these reforms that guarantee the lives of the people, the administration of justice and political liberty shall be in effect.

"If the Government should unfortunately, through bad counsel, refuse to enter into formal negotiations, the revolutionary party will regain with arms the liberty of the people, and they expect to have the sympathy and moral support of the American people in this aim, as have had all people fighting for justice and liberty."

Disappointment is expressed here over the fact that Finance Minister Limantour has seen fit to seek a peace agreement by holding the United States up as a sort of bugaboo and making statements to the effect that the Government is but waiting an opportunity to get into Mexico.

Well!

"You must not rock the baby at all," says the grave physician.

"But I think an old-fashioned cradle is so cunning, and besides the gentle motion gets the baby to go to sleep without crying for an hour," says the young mother.

"Yes, but that rocking motion is very injurious upon the child's brain. The constant swaying really damages its mind."

"Doctor?"

"Yes, madam."

"When you were a little baby they still used cradles, didn't they?"

"Certainly. That was before science had determined so many of the things."

"Well-P!"

What To Do FOR Sickly Children

Letters from Mothers

"I wish I could induce every mother, who has a delicate, sickly child, to try your delicious Cod Liver and Iron Tonic VINOL. It restored our little daughter to health and strength after everything else had failed."—Mrs. C. W. STUMP, Canton, Ohio.

Mrs. F. P. Skonnard, of Minneapolis, Minn., writes, "I want to recommend VINOL to every mother who has a weak or sickly child. My little boy was sickly, pale, and had no appetite for two years. I tried different medicines and doctors without benefit, but thanks to VINOL, he is a well and healthy boy to-day."

C. Allen, of New Bedford, Mass., writes, "My two puny children gained rapidly in flesh and strength in a very short time after taking VINOL."

We positively know VINOL will build up little ones and make them healthy, strong and robust. Try one bottle, and if you are not satisfied, we will return your money.

PHENOMENAL IS GROWTH SHOWN

In the United States by Census of 1910.

"TALE OF CITIES" WONDERFUL
Remained for a Southern City
To Show Most Remarkable Increase.

WHAT PACIFIC COAST HAS DONE

(By Roderick Clifford.)

Washington, March 25.—Many a remarkable tribute to the wonderful growth of the United States is contained in the census of 1910.

Never has a comparison been so instructive as in the study of these amazing figures spreading over successive decades. The United States is growing faster than ever before.

The "tale of the cities" is a wonderful story. The farms have languished, while the cities have absorbed the young blood of the rural districts.

There are now fifty cities in the United States having a population of more than 100,000. The combined population of these fifty municipalities is 20,303,047. This means that nearly twenty-five per cent. of the entire population of the nation is now living under conditions which are either metropolitan, or approximate the metropolitan scale of existence. In 1900 the same cities had a combined population of 15,190,375, and in 1890, 11,470,364. In twenty years the figures have practically doubled.

The philosophers of population argue that not only does the growth of the cities emphasize the trend away from agriculture and towards manufacture, but it indicates an increasing love of luxury, creature comfort, amusement and the increasing ranks of the co-called "parasitic classes" at the expense of the producing classes.

The honors for having shown the highest rate of growth among the cities of considerable size has been awarded to Birmingham, Ala., which showed the phenomenal increase of 245 per cent during the past decade. In that period it developed from a city of distinctly minor rank—having only 38,415, in 1900—to one of the great cities of the South. It now has a population of 132,685. Scarcely second to Birmingham in growth were Los Angeles and Seattle, the former showing an increase of 211 per cent, and the latter 194 per cent.

The most marvelous story told by the census is the amazing growth of the Pacific coast. With the exception of a few sporadic cases, cities in other sections of the country have shown a normal rate of increase, the period of "mushroom" growth having passed; but the far West has, apparently, just entered upon the golden period of its development. Despite the catastrophe of 1906, San Francisco shows the substantial increase of twenty-two per cent, and is now a city of 416,912 people. Her sister municipality, Oakland, vies with Los Angeles and Seattle in rapid growth, showing 124 per cent for the decade. It now contains 150,174 inhabitants. Portland, Oregon, increased at the rate of 120 per cent. It is now the fourth city of the Pacific coast, having a population of 297,213. Spokane, which grew at the rate of 183 per cent during the past decade, has a population of 108,347 and is one of the most progressive cities of the coast. The larger eastern cities averaged about 20 per cent increase during the past ten years, New York being the only shining exception to this rule. The wonderful growth of the metropolis needs no comment at this time. In the middle West, Cleveland and Detroit made the biggest gains.

According to official figures of the census bureau, the ten largest cities in the world are ranked in the following order: London, New York, Paris, Tokio, Chicago, Berlin, Vienna, St. Petersburg, Philadelphia, Moscow. The United States is the only nation with three cities on this list, and Russia the only nation with two.

The fact that the urban movement in the United States is not wanting, but probably a permanent feature of our national life, is indicated in many ways. Of the 175 largest cities in the country, 120 show a greater increase in the last decade than in the period of 1890-1900, and 87 also show a higher per centage of increase.

The bureau of the census is authority for the statement that fully one-third of the cities of 25,000 and over show an increase of more than 50 per cent in the past decade. Of the northern cities, about one-fifth show such an increase; of the southern cities, about two-fifths; and of the far western cities, about three-fourths. Of the twenty-two cities which more than doubled their population in the same period, ten are in the West, eight in the South, and four in the North.

HE FOUND HIS FAULT
WHEN IT WAS TOO LATE

With much trouble the burglar had effected an entrance into the trust company's office. As he approached the big steel safe he was confronted by this sign:

SAVE YOUR DYNAMITE.
THIS SAFE IS NOT LOCKED.
TURN KNOB AND OPEN.

"I don't know what their little game is," he said, "but I'll just see if it really is unlocked."

He grasped the knob and gave it a turn.

Whereupon he received an electric shock that nearly floored him, an alarm bell rang loudly, the office became flooded with light, a door in the wall flew open and a big dog sprang at him.

"Darn my fool hide!" he exclaimed an hour later, as the door of a cell in the police station closed on him: "I know what's the matter with me! I'm too trusting!"

DOORS OF ALL SAINTS'
CHURCH TO BE CLOSED

New York, March 24.—The doors of All Saints' church, where worshipped the descendants of the old Knickerbockers in years gone, will close forever on Easter Sunday when the Rev. Dr. Wm. N. Dunnell, its aged rector, gives up his charge.

Dr. Dunnell's retirement marks the passing from active life of New York's oldest Episcopal clergyman. For more than forty years he has been rector of All Saints' church. He was baptized in the edifice when the elite of New York society worshipped there and witnessed the encroachment of business houses upon the residential section in which the church was then situated, until almost the last of his once large and fashionable flock left the neighborhood.

There are now upon the church rolls less than 100 names, where sixty years ago there were 1,500.

Lippincott's For April.

The fact that the April Lippincott's contains a new complete novel by Will Levinton Comfort, author of "Routledge Rides Alone," is sufficient to make the magazine of extraordinary interest to the thousands who have enjoyed that "best-selling" book, but in addition, that interest is ample "backed up" by the general excellence of the rest of its contents. Mr. Comfort's new novel is called "The Rising Road," and it is characterized by the same strength of plot, vivid scenic effects, and excellent character-drawing which earned for "Routledge" its well-deserved popularity. The scenes are laid in an island of the Philippines, where the natives are in revolt against the American occupation. The leader of the Filipinos is a renegade Spaniard, with whose daughter the American hero is in love. The road they traverse to happiness is a thorny one, but all turns out happily in the end, nor would the reader have it otherwise.

There are seven short stories in the issue, and all are so good that it is hard to pick out any that are worthy of special mention.

KENTUCKY'S BIG TOBACCO CROP

In Year 1910 Was Out of the Ordinary.

RAISED 381,024,000 POUNDS

Last Year—Much in Excess of Crop of the Previous Year.

WILL LIKELY BE FALLING OFF

Figures given by the Crop Reporter, an efficient publication of the United States Department of Agriculture, show that Kentucky raised a bumper tobacco crop in the year 1910. The production in that year amounted to 381,024,000 pounds, some thirty million pounds in excess of the crop of 1909.

For many years Kentucky has been producing more than a third of all the tobacco grown in this country. The State's percentage of the total production in the United States in 1910 was 38.7. The States next to Kentucky in production are North Carolina, Virginia, Ohio and Tennessee in the order named. Despite the tobacco troubles of the last half dozen years, Kentucky farmers show a disposition to grow the weed in augmenting bulk year after year. In 1908 there was a cut-out which reduced the crop to 195,600,000 pounds. Even in that year Kentucky's percentage of the total production in the United States was 27.2 and in 1909 the State's crop leaped to 350,700,000 pounds.

The 1911 crop probably will not equal that of 1910. There is likely to be a falling off in the burley district where prices are ruling low. There will be no falling off, however, in the dark tobacco districts where the product has been selling at satisfactory figures. At least if there should be any slump in the crop it will be due to other conditions than dissatisfaction with the market. From the amount of fuss that is made over the tobacco question in Kentucky, the outside world might well conclude that tobacco is our principal crop, but it is not. The value of our corn crop is about twice that of the tobacco production. In 1909 for instance, we grew some $64,000,000 worth of corn against some $37,000,000 worth of tobacco.

Our farmers go along and raise corn in tremendous quantities and say little about it. For some years past it has seemed to be impossible to grow tobacco without more or less of turmoil, strife and bitter feeling. On the face of things it would appear to be advisable for many of them to take the advice of a central Kentucky newspaper, which suggested recently that tobacco ground should be prepared carefully and then planted in corn. But our farmers have contracted the tobacco habit, and almost any sort of a tobacco habit is hard to break.—[Louisville Courier-Journal.]

What the April Woman's Home Companion Contains.

The April number of Woman's Home Companion is brimful, pressed down and overflowing with the spirit of Easter. It is a riot of joyousness, of frilly Easter frocks, of new spring hats, of gardens, music, verse and entertaining fiction. But underneath the sparkle and lightness of the surface attractions of this magazine lies the splendid bed-rock of all its helpful departments and strong special articles.

The fiction in the April Woman's Home Companion includes the second part of "The Flight of the Magic Carpet," a charming story of love, adventure and a motor car by C. N. and A. M. Williamson; "Mrs. Benson's Brains" by Annie Warner, a homely little tale of a mother who thought she had very little "brains" but proved the contrary; other contributors are Mary Heaton Vorse, Maude Radford Warren, Grace M. Sissons and Louise Forslund.

The Colds That Hang On Are readily cured by Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. It relieves the colds and stops the cough. There is only one genuine. m

SPIRIT PICTURE APPEARS FOLLOWING CHILD'S WISH

A mysterious photographic incident is reported from Cloquet. Mrs. Joseph Gustafson, of that village died six years ago, and recently Mr.

Gustafson and his five children had a group picture taken at a Cloquet studio. When the picture was printed, a dim but sufficiently distinct to be recognizable picture of Mrs. Gustafson appeared in the group. The photographer says he did not notice the woman's figure when he developed the plate, but it came out in the printing of the pictures. The photographer says that he cannot account for the phenomena professionally. At the time the picture was taken, one of the children expressed a wish that her mother was there.—[Duluth Cor. St. Paul Dispatch.]

PETITION TO THROW A CONCERN IN BANKRUPTCY

The Owensboro Messenger of Thursday says:

Through Attorneys Likens, Wilson & Crowe, of Hartford, Ohio county, an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States Clerk's office yesterday against the firm of Reneer & Ashby, composed of C. K. Reneer and W. E. Ashby, of Centertown, Ohio county. The petition was filed by Ragon Brothers, I. Gans, S. Kahn & Sons and Ichenhauser & Company, all of Evansville, Indiana, who claim the defendants committed an act of bankruptcy by permitting the assignee of the Bank of Centertown to apply money they had on deposit in the bank to pay a debt they owed the bank. The plaintiffs further claim that the defendants owe something like $3,000, and that their assets will not amount to this much. It is further cited that the company recently moved a portion of their stock of merchandise from Centertown to Nelson, Muhlenberg county, but retained Centertown as its headquarters.

Attacks School Principal.

A severe attack on school principal Chas. B. Allen, of Sylvania, Ga., is thus told by him. "For more than three years," he writes, "I suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys. All remedies failed till I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Such results are common. Thousands bless them for curing stomach trouble, biliousness, and for new health and vigor. Try them. Only 50c at James H. Williams. m

The Usual Spring Ailment.
"The doctor says I have mental indigestion."

"What on earth is that?"
"Seems I'm reading more baseball news than I can assimilate."

Gives Prompt Relief.

William H. Douglas, Jr., of Washington, D. C., says: "I take great pleasure in informing you that I have used Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey and it gave me almost instant relief."

A Friend's Inquiry.

"My husband has given me a diamond necklace."
"My! My! What was it you caught him doing?"

Fortune Telling

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health.
The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross.
Womanly health when lost or impaired may generally be regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This Prescription has, for over 40 years, been curing delicate, weak, pain-wrecked women, by the hundreds of thousands and this too in the privacy of their homes without their having to submit to indelicate questionings and offensively repugnant examinations.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence held as sacredly confidential. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.
Dr. PIERCE'S GREAT FAMILY DOCTOR BOOK, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition—1000 pages, answers in Plain English hosts of delicate questions which every woman, single or married, ought to know about. WEDNESDAY.....MARCH 29

NOTICE, DEMOCRATS:
Democratic State Primary Election, Saturday, July 1.

There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip, even when the liquor interests try to dominate politics.

Next Tuesday is the time set for Champ Clark's ride up Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, behind a span of Democratic mules.

Louisville has accepted the harem skirt without a gurgle. Evidently it would take something more—or perhaps less—than the harem garment to shock some blase people of the Falls City.

Last Sunday, March 26, was the three hundredth anniversary of the King James version of our Bible.
The event was celebrated throughout the United Kingdom as a great Thanksgiving day.

An assistant Professor of Harvard says the high cost of living can be laid partly to what the goat gets.
His contention is that about one-half the cost of prepared food which we buy in stores goes for tin and glass and paper boxes to preserve and give it an enticing appearance on sale.

Judge Reed announced right at the start that he would have no debate with Senator McCreary or any other Democratic candidate in his race for the Democratic nomination for Governor. A wise decision. Debates between candidates of the same party for the same office never result in any good.

Commenting on the announcement that Col. Roosevelt spoke at the completion of the third largest dam in the world in Arizona recently, Tom Underwood, editor of the Hopkinsville New Era, says the largest dam is the Assouan dam on the river Nile and the second was the one Teddy uttered when he heard the election returns last fall.

After Booker Washington got into that strange apartment house in New York, hunting, as he alleges, for the residence of a friend, if he had simply asked the first person he met for further directions, as any ordinary sensible person would have done, instead of presuming upon his dignity and personality, he would have saved himself a world of notorious and also a sore head. If Mr.
Washington has good horse sense, he ought to show it when occasion demands.

It is pretty generally understood that Judge O'Rear's decisions on the superior court bench have been inimical to the liquor interests of Kentucky and for this reason he would be knifed by the latter if he should appear in the race for Governor.
Republican politicians who pander to the liquor vote are against O'Rear's candidacy for the reason mentioned. Managers of the g. o. p.
in this State are having a hard time trying to "rectify" the party vote to suit the exigencies of the occasion.

The editor of the Calvert City Times says the harem skirt "should not be worn to church or to prayer meetings or to evening entertainments or to Sunday Schools or to weddings or to banquets or to funerals, but the time to wear them is to fairs, horse races, watering places, excursions and on the streets in the afternoon when the wind is very high," which leads the Paducah Sun to surmise that said editor "evidently doesn't want the harem skirt worn any place where he can't see it."

Other qualifications being equal, the majority of the Democrats of Kentucky will quite likely vote for the candidate for Governor who unreservedly commits himself as in favor of a State Convention to enunciate party principles. Under such auspices, a man knows who and what he is voting for. Such a candidate spells something and means something. It makes plain what character of government the candidate stands for, what he would put in practice if elected. Every Democratic candidate should urge a platform convention.

The lower House of Congress which assembles next week, along with the Senate, of course, will be the first Democratic body of like kind in sixteen years. On good authority it is stated that one of the first activities of the new Democratic House will be an investigation of all the departments of the Government. An effort will be made to discover what useless offices exist, what the chances are for the exercise of economy and to unearth any irregularities that may have occurred during the long season of Republican control. The public has a right to know and the Democratic public servants are there to show them.

Congress will assemble in extra session next Tuesday, April 4, and there is, of course, much interest and speculation with reference to what it will do. It is assumed that the Canadian reciprocity treaty will be approved by the Senate and there is expectation that some of the important tariff schedules will be lowered, or that an effort to lower them will at least be made. There is some guessing on the political divisions that are likely to set up, the combinations of insurgents and stand-patters, progressive and retrogres-sive Democrats, and so on. Evidently, this session will attract more attention than any that has assembled for many years.

The entrance of Judge Wm. Reed, of Paducah, into the contest for the Democratic nomination for Governor, makes a triangular race and also infuses much interest in the campaign. The other two candidates are Judge Addams and Senator McCreary. That Judge Reed will poll a majority of the Democratic vote in Western Kentucky, seems altogether probable, while Senator McCreary will probably do a like thing in the eastern end of the State. Judge Addams' strength is problematical, but he announces that he is in the race to stay. They are all three good men and good Democrats and either of them would make a most excellent Governor.

Good Man Altogether.
Judge Reed's candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Governor will be well received by the people because he has the ability and character to make a fine Governor and the availability to get all the Democratic votes and be elected should he be nominated.—[Elizabethtown

CYCLONE ANNIVERSARY— TWENTY-ONE YEARS AGO

A fierce gale prevailed throughout Hartford and vicinity all day Monday, which reminded some persons of the cyclone which passed over this county two decades and a year ago. It did much damage in Ohio county and especially in the region
north and east of Hartford, but here in town its effects were slight. At 8:50 o'clock Monday night, twenty-one years had elapsed since the famous West Louisville cyclone, so-called, caused the death of two persons, injured several others, and almost completely wiped the little town from the map.

The storm was one of a series of tornadoes which visited Kentucky and surrounding States, causing great loss of life. Five separate tornadoes visited Kentucky that night, besides the one which struck Louisville, 30 people being killed out in the State, and 50 injured. The rural property loss was estimated at $1,000,000. Of the 76 persons killed in Louisville, 44 were attending a dance at the Falls City hall in Market street, near 12th.

The cyclone struck Louisville at 18th and Broadway, and tore a path 300 feet wide, leaving the city at Seventh and Water streets and crossing the river to Jeffersonville.

"Doc." Has Bought a Farm.
Mr. U. S. Carson, the groceryman, has purchased the J. R. Himes farm on the north side of Rough river, two miles west of Hartford, consisting of fifty-four acres, at a consideration of $1,000. Mr. Himes has moved onto Ford brothers' farm, three miles southwest of Hartford.

Died Near Bowling Green.
Mrs. P. W. Tabor, of near Bowling Green, died Thursday morning of erysipelas. She had been sick for several days and her death was expected. The remains were interred near her home. Mrs. Tabor was a sister of Mrs. John R. Phipps, of this city.

WENT TO DEATH WITH BRYAN VOW UNBROKEN

Macon, Mo., March 25.—Tom Robertson, sixty-five years old, who took a vow in 1896 that he would not permit a razor to touch his face or shears to touch his hair until Willam Jennings Bryan was elected President, died to-day as the result of a fall down a long flight of stairs.
He had kept his vow faithfully and was looking forward to a Democratic triumph in 1912. When Robertson's hair was combed, it reached half way down his back.

HARTFORD COLLEGE NOTES.

The faculty and students are indebted to friends of the college for some excellent addresses and kindly interest shown in their work. Dr.
Pendleton lectured to the Physiology class in the Normal Department on "Circulation." Dr. J. W. Taylor will lecture later on "The Eye." Dr.
Pirtle addressed the student body recently concerning "The Care of the Teeth," a timely subject well presented and much appreciated.

Mr. Marvin Taylor, Rochester, and Miss Alice Keown, city, entered the Normal Department last week.

Rev. Elgin conducted devotional exercises at chapel Monday, March

JUDGE REED TO BEGIN EXTENSIVE CAMPAIGN

Mayfield, Ky., March 23.—On his return here to-day from Paducah to preside as special judge of the Graves Circuit Court, Judge Wm.
M. Reed was given a rousing reception, and received many assurances of support in his race for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Judge Reed will arrange his judicial duties so as to give him time in which to make up a list of speaking dates. Attorneys practicing at the Mayfield bar, where court is now in session, have suggested to Judge Reed that they preside at different times during the rest of the term in order that he may have all the time necessary to prepare for a campaign.
His first speaking date will be at Owensboro the first week in April and he will stump the State, but will not challenge McCreary to debate,
it is understood.

Vote Selling in Kentucky.
It is alleged by residents of Pres-tonsburg, the county seat of Floyd, where 210 indictments were found

GREENVILLE MAN UNDER KNIFE AT LOUISVILLE

W. G. Duncan Comes From Texas for Operation—Recovery Seems Certain.

The Louisville Times of Thursday says:

W. G. Duncan, of Greenville, Ky., president of the W. G. Duncan Coal Company, Past Grand Master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and a prominent Mason, underwent an operation at Norton Infirmary to-day. The operation proved very successful, it was stated, and it is expected that Mr. Duncan will be able to leave the hospital within a fortnight.

Mr. Duncan came to Louisville one week ago from Texas to have the operation performed. Although he was not very ill, and did not consider an operation imperative, it was thought best that it be performed before he became worse.

At the hospital to-day were Mr. Duncan's wife, his sons, Andrew Duncan, secretary of the Duncan Coal Company, and W. G. Duncan, Jr., an engineer for the company; his daughter, Mrs. T. F. Swallow, of Bessemer, Ala., and his sister, Mrs. E. D. Boone, of Philadelphia.

Dr. C. Skinner and Dr. Shackner are attending Mr. Duncan.

Mr. Duncan is prominently known throughout the State and the South. He is a native of Scotland, but was brought over to this country when a baby by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Duncan. His mother died in Louisville last May.

The elder Mr. Duncan was engaged in the coal business with the firm of McHenry & Co. W. G. Duncan succeeded his father in the same business, and eight or ten years ago organized the Duncan Coal Company, which is one of the largest mining companies in Kentucky. Two mines are operated at Graham, Ky., and one at Luzerne.

Mr. Duncan is wealthy and takes a great interest in fraternal and church work. He is an elder in the Presbyterian church at Greenville, where he makes his home, and for years has been prominently connected with the Odd Fellows and the Masonic orders.

Mrs. J. H. Wallace, of 2904 Virginia avenue, Louisville, is a niece of Mr. Duncan.

NOTE—At latest account yesterday Mr. Duncan was getting along nicely and it is confidently expected that his recovery will be speedy and permanent.

DEATH OF AN ESTIMABLE CITIZEN OF AFTON, VA.

Mrs. John J. McHenry received a telegram Thursday evening announcing the critical illness of her father, Mr. J. R. Goodloe, at Afton, Va., and she left on an early train next morning for the bedside of her stricken parent. The sad intelligence was received in Hartford yesterday morning that Mr. Goodloe had passed away at four o'clock, just previous. Mr. Goodloe had been an invalid many years and was seriously ill of Bright's disease for several months just previous to his death of this trouble. He was 82 years old at the time of his death and had spent a splendid and most honorable life. He was a distinguished gentleman of the old school and possessed those excellent traits of character which are the synonym of honor and integrity of the highest type of Virginians.

Besides an aged wife, Mr. Goodloe leaves six children—two girls and four boys. His daughters are Mrs. John J. McHenry, recently of Louisville, but now residing with her little son at Hartford, and Mrs. B. Sanders, of Richmond, Va. The sons are Messrs. Hawthorne, John, Robert and Sam, none of whom are married. Mr. Goodloe's wife was Miss Margaret Crisp, of Virginia. He

His going was a typical and glorious ending of a career marked by all that fulfills the mission of a life full of love and honor.

A Narrow Escape.

During the high gale Monday afternoon, the wind blew up a sheet of old paper in front of Mr. J. C. Her's horse hitched to his delivery wagon standing near Dr. Bean's Opera House. Mr. Ney Foster, junior editor of the Hartford Republican, was in the wagon, which he was using to haul some supplies to the Opera House to be used in the play Friday night. The horse became frightened at the wind's antics and started to run, overturning the wagon with Mr. Foster underneath it. Mr. Foster held to the lines, but was dragged on the ground, with the wagon on top and he being near the horse's heels, the distance of a city block. He was finally rescued, much bruised but not seriously hurt. It was a narrow escape from a worse fate.

"The Face at the Window."

Under the auspices of the Hartford Players' Club, "The Face at the Window" will be produced at Dr. Bean's Opera House next Friday night. It is a drama in three acts, intensely interesting throughout and abounding in entrancing situations. There will be special music and the latest song hits between acts. Tickets and reserved seat plan are now at the store of Ohio County Drug Co. General Admission 25c; children under twelve 15c; reserved seats 35c.

"Uncle Rube" is Coming.

The Calhoun Comedy Company will hold forth at Dr. Bean's Opera House to-morrow (Thursday) night with "Uncle Rube," a drama in four acts and a play of much merit. The company comes well recommended and has been playing to crowded houses. They carry their own scenery. There will be music by the Calhoun Orchestra, under the management of Mrs. John R. Priest, and the proceeds are to purchase uniforms for said band—a very commendable purpose. There will be an "Uncle Rube" parade by the band, consisting of 20 pieces, at 3:30 o'clock. Reserved seat tickets are now on

Going to Oregon.

Mr. Albert Austin and family, of the Horton neighborhood, will take the train at Horton next Saturday for Coburg, Oregon, where they will make their future home. These are good citizens whom we regret to see leave the county. They have the best wishes of their many friends. There has been quite an exodus from Ohio county to Western points in the last few weeks—$572 in tickets were purchased in one day recently from the local agent, Mr. Mischke.

HAD A HARROWING EXPERIENCE AT SEA

Senator Bradley and Party Encounter Fury of Storm Off Cape Hatteras.

Frankfort, Ky., March 24.—Driven from their course sixty miles, the steamer Colon, carrying Senator William O. Bradley, his daughter, Mrs. John G. South, of Frankfort; Mrs. Graham Vreeland, of Louisville; Congressman John Langley and wife, of Kentucky, and several other Kentuckians, came so close to being wrecked at sea off Cape Hatteras that the passengers will never forget the experience. A letter to Dr. John G. South from his wife has been received here bringing the first news of the thrilling experiences through which the Kentuckians went.

All escaped uninjured except Senator Bradley, who was thrown to the deck of the ship twice and bruised. Mrs. Vreeland was unconscious for three days as a result of her experience and the shock she underwent during the storm.

At one time during the storm, in the middle of the night, the captain of the ship awakened all passengers and directed them to get dressed, look to the life preservers and prepare to take to the boats, as it looked as if the ship would certainly sink. Mrs. Vreeland was unconscious and unable to get out of her bed to put on a life preserver, but all the other passengers donned the preservers and were ready for anything that might happen.

The Kentuckians reached Panama a week ago last Sunday, and it was declared the roughest trip that has ever been made between New York and Panama. They expect to sail from Panama the first part of this next Sunday. Mrs. Vreeland is in better health, and has recovered from her severe illness on board the ship. She and Mrs. South will come to Kentucky after a few days in New York and Washington.

Graham Vreeland, of Louisville, received a letter from Mrs. Vreeland, from Panama, in which she detailed the dreadful experience she underwent during the storm at sea. Mrs. Vreeland said that all her clothes were ruined by the heavy seas that rolled over the deck of the steamer. She said she had fully recovered and was enjoying splendid health.

There is Only One Pine-Tar-Honey That is Dr. Bell's. It is the original and can be relied on in croup, coughs, colds and all lung and bronchial troubles. Look for the bell on the bottle.

AN ODD EXPERIMENT—TEST OF NAVAL VESSEL

It is not often that a deliberate attempt is made to break a ship in two, but that is what the British Admiralty Department did when it suspended the torpedo-boat destroyer Wolf by the middle without support at the ends, and then at the ends without support in the middle, in order to discover whether the boat was so weak that it would break amidships because of the unevenly distributed support of heavy waves at sea. The Wolf stood the strain not only of this but subsequent tests. The experiments were made because it had been charged that the boats of this class were structurally weak.

For Croup
Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey is the best known remedy. Do not experiment; get the genuine Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey.

ACCUMULATED 2,033 JAGS IN NINETEEN YEARS

In her statement to District Judge Riddle just before he granted her a divorce, Mrs. Mattie F. Work said: "I married David E. Work on January 1, 1891, and during the entire period of our married life, up to the time we separated six months ago, he was intoxicated two or three times a week."

According to the wife, Work accumulated 2,033 "jags" during the nineteen years six months and seven days of their married life at two "jags" a week. Computing on the basis of a quart of whiskey to each intoxication, Work consumed 508 gallons, or 11.17 barrels of whiskey, costing him $3,048 at $1.50 a quart.

If Work was intoxicated three times a week, he should be credited with 3,050 "jags," and the consumption of 762.3 gallons of whiskey, costing $4,575.—[Denver (Col.) cor. New York World.]

WEIGHT, OR WINGS?

Here is a man who wants to fly. He goes to some of the noted aviators, and makes known his desire. They begin to show him the latest models of aeroplanes. But the lightest of them weighs twice as much as the man himself. He tries to lift it, but fails.

"What!" he exclaims. "Must I add all that weight? I am too heavy already. I cannot lift one of these contrivances; to push one on its wheels for a mile would all but exhaust me. It is preposterous to tell me that such a machine will enable me to fly."

"But, my dear sir," expostulates an aviator, "you are not expected to carry or push this aeroplane. It is to carry you."

"But how can it? It is not like a balloon that must be held down, that rises and floats to soar into the air. Here lies your aeroplane, helpless, inert; it must be lifted, pushed or dragged about by a horse."

"Ah, you do not comprehend. Let me show you. Come, sit by me here. See, I start the motor. The propeller revolves. The whole fabric quivers with power. Now, behold, we are off, without the slightest jar. We skim the air like birds. We possess wings."

And it is even so. To fly, man must triple his weight by adding machinery. Yet this added mass is not really weight. It is wings.

I want to rise in realms spiritual. My soul would fly. I seek help from the Word of God. It says, "Take up the cross." "Take my yoke upon you." And, failing to comprehend the inner workings of the Maker's plan, I cry out:

"Alas, my Master, I cannot raise my own weight, and shall I add a yoke, a burden? Woe is me; I cannot carry such a religion."

Are there not many fearful and doubting souls who hesitate to take up the religion of Christ because they thus doubt and fear? Are there not those that call themselves Christians who are trying to carry or push their religion, and are making of life a desperate and exhausting struggle?

Let us listen to the exultant words of one skilled in long practice of soul-flying. "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." "It is no longer I, but Christ." How Paul did skim through the spiritual sky!

My friend, is your religion weight or wings?—[George C. Albom, Allenville, Wis.]

NO REASON FOR IT.

When Hartford Citizens Show the Certain Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of diabetes or any kidney ills, when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Hartford citizen says:

J. F. Hicks, Hartford, R. F. D. No. 5, says: "For twelve years my kidneys were disordered. I became tired easily, was often extremely nervous and suffered from a dull pain through the small of my back. I was also subject to dizzy spells, during which there was a blurring of my sight. The secretions from my kidneys were too frequent in passage and greatly disturbed my rest. I was so much impressed with the advertisement I read regarding Doan's Kidney Pills that I procured a supply and am glad to say that it was not long before they helped me. The contents of two boxes of this remedy effected a cure. I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers."

TEN COMMANDMENTS OF CANADA, WARNING

Natives Against a Stronger People—The Matter is Getting Serious.

1. Canada is thy Native Land by the Grace of Providence and thy Forefathers' blood. Thou shalt not prefer any other land before it.

2. Honor and defend the glorious heritage which has been handed down to thee, that thy name may also live in a history ennobled by those who have gone before.

3. Remember thy solemn duty to thy Country, which the privilege of citizenship imposes upon thee, and keep sacred and inviolate the trust which is thine only in passing, for all is posterity's, whose legacy may be increased but not lessened.

4. Keep thou to the Crown and the Flag which are the guarantee of a standard of citizenship higher than all and of greater freedom than any people have known.

5. Thou shalt not barter an inch of the land, a drop of the water, a breath of the air, nor a tithe of the liberty of which thou art the guardian.

6. Thou shalt not give into the keeping of strangers the destiny of thy national resources, the product of the skill of thy people, the teaching of thy children or the ruling of the land, or any part thereof.

7. Thou shalt not discount the works of future generations, nor lay waste the lands, forests and mines which are their fields of labor.

8. Thou shalt not mortgage thy national asset to the stranger, whose hands will lie heavy on thy children's birthright, if he devour it not altogether.

9. As thou honorst the Mother that gave thee birth in the flesh, so honor also the mother of thy Nationhood, for in your weakness you need her strength and in your strength you need her counsel.

10. Beware of negotiations with stronger people for with high praises and seeming gifts thy vigil is broken, while they place a yoke about thy neck.—[Montreal Star.]

HOME-MADE CANDY.

Molasses Candy.

Put into a granite saucepan a cup each of molasses and brown sugar and a tablespoonful each of butter and vinegar. Boil until a little dropped into cold water is brittle, beat in a scant teaspoonful of baking soda and take immediately from the fire. Pour into buttered pans.

Peppermint Candy.

Into a saucepan put a pound of granulated sugar and a gill of boiling water and, as soon as the sugar is dissolved, add a tablespoonful of vinegar. Boil until a little becomes brittle in cold water, add peppermint essence to taste, and drop by the spoonful on buttered or waxed paper.

JUDGE J. D. ATCHISON DIES AT OWENSBORO

Owensboro, Ky., March 22.—Judge John D. Atchison, one of the most brilliant attorneys in Kentucky, died at 11 o'clock to-night at his home in Owensboro. His death was the result of an attack of the grip three months ago. Complications developed and skilled physicians used every known remedy in an effort to save his life, without avail.

Judge Atchison was a son of Austin Atchison, who came to Kentucky from Virginia. He was born in this county in 1852. On account of defective eyesight it was with difficulty that he learned to read. At an early age he decided to start out in life for himself. He borrowed money from his father and went to Henderson county, where he began to teach school. Later he went to South Carrollton and was connected with Prof. Wayland Alexander's school. He was admitted to the bar in March 1877, and rapidly forged to the front rank among the attorneys of the Owensboro bar. He served several terms as County Judge of Daviess county and was later elected City Attorney of Owensboro.

Judge Atchison has appeared as counsel in some of the most important cases ever taken to the Court of Appeals and Supreme Court from Western Kentucky.

A few years ago Judge Atchison was in great demand as a chautauqua lecturer. His lecture, "Adam and His Family," was heard with pleasure in a number of States. Judge Atchison owned considerable property in Owensboro. He is survived by a widow and a number of children.

POEMS YOU'LL ENJOY.

THE HERALD'S SPECIAL SELECTIONS.

ARE YOU GETTING ANYWHERE?

You are rushing after riches, with a grim look on your face; You are spurred by one ambition, in your breast peace has no place; You have turned away from others whom you cling to, long ago. You have ceased to find contentment in the hooks you used to know; You are straining, you are striving, through the dark days and the fair.

But, oh, restless, eager brother, are you getting anywhere? In your haste you have forgotten how to linger or to smile When a child looks up and greets you or would claim your care awhile;

Though the wild rose sheds its petals in the lonely pasture still, And glad breezes away the blossoms in the orchard on the hill, You are too much in a hurry, to much occupied by care, But, with all your eager efforts, are you getting anywhere?

You have turned away from pleasure, trouble haunts you in your dreams; It is long since you have lingered on the shores of shaded streams That go singing to the pebbles they have made so clean and white And have polished at their leisure and their pleasure, day and night;

You have ceased to know the solace that is in a sweet, old air, But, with all your greedy craving, are you getting anywhere?

You have given up old fancies; you have left old friends behind; You are getting rich in pocket, but you're poor in heart and mind; You have lost the sense of beauty in your haste to get ahead, And along the ways you travel grief and bitterness are spread; You no longer care how others bend beneath the woes they bear, But, with all your cruel crowding, are you getting anywhere?

Out beyond you there is darkness that no morning's light shall break; In the distance there is silence that no song shall ever wake; At the journey's end dishonor waits for them that day by day Cheat their souls and starve their senses while they hurry on the way;

You are passing many pleasures that you have the right to share, As you rush to fill the hollow men will dig for you somewhere. —[S. E. KISER.]

Has Millions of Friends.

How would you like to number your friends by millions, as Bucklen's Salve does? Its astounding cures in the past forty years made them. Washington is smiling discreetly over a witticism of Miss Helen Taft, who inherits her wit from her mother.

Miss Taft, at a ball, was accosted by a matron, who gushed: "So you have just been dancing with Baron Blank! Isn't he brilliant?"

"Is he? I don't know," Miss Taft hesitated.

"Why, of course he is! He is the most brilliant light in the legation."

"Well," said Miss Taft, with a smile, "his light flickered while he was with me, and I rather set him down as a tallow diplomat."

Democratic Countries.

The teacher having explained to the class about ten countries of South America being republics and the remaining three being owned by three nations, asked a child in the back seat to "explain the government of ten countries of South America."

"They are republics," replied the child.

"And what are the other three?" asked the teacher.

"Democrats," was the astonishing answer.—[From Norman E. Mack's National Monthly.]

No Help For It.

"What's the cause of all that racket?" asked the manager of the great animal show. "Can't it be stopped? The people out in front will be getting panic-stricken in a minute."

"We can't help it, sir," replied the press agent. "The lion tamer's wife is back there chasing him around the cages and refusing to listen to reason."

Being a tract or parcel of land in Ohio county, Kentucky, on the head waters of Middle Fork of Adam's Fork creek, bounded as follows: Beginning at a stone; thence S. 47 poles to a black gum; thence E. 97 poles to a red elm and poplar; thence N. 92 poles to a stone; thence S. W. 10 poles to the creek and with it to the beginning, containing fifty acres, being the same, more or less; and which land was conveyed to Nora Wright by R. B. Wells and wife on January 12, 1903, and which is on record in Deed Book "25", page 253, Ohio County Clerk's office.

The purchaser will be required to execute bond with approved security immediately after sale.

This 14th day of March, 1911.
 F. L. Felix,
 Master Commissioner.
 Heavrin & Woodward, Attorneys.

A Fierce Night Alarm
 Is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by cough. Often it aroused Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, O., R. R. No. 2, for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Sometimes in severe attacks," he wrote "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you. Asthma, hay fever, la grippe, whooping cough, hemorrhages, fly before it. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free. Sold by James H. Williams.

Description and Pedigree
CHICAGO PRIDE, Reg. No. 2879.

Was foaled September 15th, 1905. He is an exceptionally fine young jack, black with white points, 15 1-4 hands high, standard measure--jack measure, 15 1-2 hands--weighing 1,010 pounds, fine head and ears, fine form with plenty of bone and body and very ambitious, a fine performer with plenty of style and action. CHICAGO PRIDE has a wide reputation of being the best jack that has ever been in this part of Kentucky and has proven himself a sure foal getter and a good, quick, nice performer. He is very popular as a breeder, as he is out of a very large family of jacks and jennets and is registered, No. 2879 in the American Breeders Association of jacks and jennets, thus showing he is a high bred jack. He is a fine breeder, breeds large mules, color mostly black and eighty per cent. of his colts have been mare mules.

CHICAGO PRIDE is known as the fine jack formerly owned by Sam J. Baker & Son, Patesville, Ky. His colts, a number of them, have sold at weaning time for $100.00, and some as high as $112.50 and several of his two-year-olds sold for $200 cash. Now if you are breeding for a seller, come to this fine jack. He was sired by Big John, black with white points, 15 3-4 hands high, weighing 1,200 pounds and a noted producer, he by Kentucky Boy, black with white points, 15 1-2 hands high, standard measure, with plenty of body and one of Kentucky's noted show jacks, he by Silver Tip, a very popular show jack and a great producer, he by Black Warrior, an Imported Black Warrior jack, he by Orphan Boy, 16 1-2 hands high, another of Kentucky's noted show jacks, he by Day Star, first dam Proud Girl, a very fine jennet 15 hands, black with white tips. Never was defeated in a show in her life. She by Snow Ball a noted jack with plenty of size, selling for $2,100. Second dam Miss Style, 15 1-4 hands high, black with white tips. She raised a noted family and was very popular as a fine jennet. She by Simes Giant. Third dam English Maid, by Tom B. an imported English Warrior jack, fourth dam Blue Ribbon.

C. E. MILLER, = = = Magan, Kentucky.

NOTE--Remember I run a register, and when your mare has a colt, don't forget to call me over the phone or write me, so I can register your mare and accommodate you when you come. I have just received a new supply of the latest equipment of breeding outfit. A Southern mule buyer asks me to put the following on my bills: Don't shear your mule colts over 6 inches from root of tail and never bob their lash.

STANLEY BANK GETS VERDICT FOR $9,498

Against Surety Company of England in Noted Estill Neel Case.

Owensboro, Ky., March 24.—The Stanley Deposit Bank, of this county, was given a judgment for $9,498, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent. from August, 1906, against the Employers' Liability Corporation, Limited, of London, England, in Circuit Court here. The case was on trial for four and a half days and was bitterly contested.

The suit for the recovery of the bank's loss from the bonding company grew out of the alleged misappropriation of the funds of the Stanley Deposit Bank by Estill Neel, who up to March, 1906, was cashier. Neel was indicted on the charge of making false entries on the books of the bank and was acquitted of the charge. He claimed that the money was appropriated by him with the consent of the officers of the concern.

The bonding company resisted payment from the fact that it was not notified when Neel's shortage became known and because monthly examinations of the books of the bank were not promptly made. A motion for a new trial will be made, and if this is denied the case will be taken to the Court of Appeals.

BIG TIME FOR EQUITY AT HAWESVILLE NEXT SATURDAY

It seems that Saturday, April 1, is to be a gala day for Hawesville, as the A. S. of E. committee on arrangements is now making every effort to bring to town thousands of farmers on that day, says the Hawesville Clarion. They have been busy for several days trying to round up a speaker with a national reputation, to assist Mr. Allen at the Hawesville meeting, and it is now practically assured that they will secure the services of either Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill or the Hon. A. O. Stanley. The Business Men's Club has decided to furnish music, which will be made by the Hawesville concert band. Every farmer in the county should take this day off, and come to town and bring his family.

CENTERTOWN.

March 27.—Mr. Jesse Shacklett died at his home here last Saturday morning of disease incident to old age. He leaves a wife and several children, all of whom are grown, to mourn his demise. His remains were interred in the new cemetery on the J. C. Warden farm last Sunday evening.

Mr. J. A. Bilbro, formerly connected with the Taylor Coal Co., has purchased an interest in the Centertown Mercantile Co. and has also bought the Dr. Baker property and will move with his family here soon. We gladly welcome Mr. Bilbro and family to our town.

Mrs. V. P. Brown, of Island, is visiting relatives here.

Mr. H. H. Lewis and wife are contemplating moving to Louisville soon to make their future home. They have many friends here who regret to give them up.

Mr. Garfield Barnard and family spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives near Pincheco.

Mrs. Mary Coffman and Misses Belle Condit, Ida Coffman, Gail Condit and Mr. Bernie Tichenor, of Matanzas, attended the Eastern Star Chapter here last Saturday evening.

Miss Effie Foster, of Springfield, Ky., has charge of the millinery department of the Centertown Mercantile Co.'s store.

Miss Ellen McMillan, of Clinton, Ill., who has been visiting her brother, E. S. McMillan, and family here, will leave for her home to-day.

Mr. Clyde Swain is very sick at this writing.

Mr. Harvey Tichenor, of Beaver Dam, was in town last Saturday.

Mr. Alec Curtis, who has been very sick, is some better.

Mrs. Willie Igleheart, of Matanzas, spent Saturday night and Sunday here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Geiger and family.

Mr. C. K. Reneer and wife, of Nelson, Ky., visited the family of Mr. Robt. Durham here a few days last week.

Esq. J. C. Jackson held court here last Saturday with a good attendance.

The Sunday Schools at the Baptist and the M. E. Churches are progressing nicely.

Mrs. Mattie Stewart has returned from an extended visit to relatives near McHenry.

Mr. John Glasscock has moved his sawmill to near Kronos, where he has a large contract of timber to saw.

Mr. Lee Mason and daughter, Miss Ressie, went to Louisville to-day to purchase a stock of goods for his store.

For Diseases of the Skin.

Nearly all diseases of the skin such as eczema, tetter, salt rheum and barbers' itch, are characterized by an intense itching and smarting, which often makes life a burden and disturbs sleep and rest. Quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Salve. It allays the itching and smarting almost instantly. Many cases have been cured by its use. For sale by all dealers.

Administrator's Sale.

I will on Saturday, April 1, 1911, at the late residence of Jacob C. Warden, deceased, offer for sale, by public auction, to the highest and best bidder, the following property:

Eight head of Cattle, fifteen head of Sheep and Lambs, one Sow and five Pigs, two Hogs, lot of Corn and Hay, Farming Tools and Household and Kitchen Furniture, Chickens, one lot of Meat and other things too numerous to mention.

Sale will begin at 10:30 a. m.

L. R. GOODALL, Admr., 1113 Centertown, Ky.

Raise in Muhlenberg.

Greenville, Ky., March 25.—County Judge J. J. Rice has received notice from the State Board of Equalization notifying him that the board had raised the assessment of this county 15 per cent. on real estate and personalty, except town lots, and 10 per cent. on town lots. This appears to be an unwarranted increase, as this year's assessment is $178,000 in excess of that of last year.

Kills a Murderer.

A merciless murderer is appendicitis with many victims, but Dr. King's New Life Pills kill it by prevention. They gently stimulate stomach, liver and bowels, prevent that clogging that invites appendicitis, curing constipation, headache, biliousness, chills. 25c at James H. Williams.

BEAVER DAM.

March 27.—Mr. Thomas Maddox, living near Taylor Mines, died the 21st of this month of trouble incident to old age. "Uncle Tom," as he was called, was in his 90th year and was the oldest member of Beaver Dam Baptist Church, having been a member of that church over 70 years. He married a Miss Shepherd in early life and settled the farm that they lived on until his wife's death, which occurred about two years ago. After funeral services at the church of which he was a member, conducted by the Rev. Hiram Brown, he was laid to rest by the side of his companion in the old churchyard.

Messrs. Alford & Likens have purchased the farm of Sam H. Taylor on the east side of Main street, North Beaver Dam. The consideration is not known. Sam has accepted a position with the Beaver Dam Planing Mill Co.

The wife of Mr. James Chinn is very low of pneumonia.

Mr. J. H. Tucker, our hotel man, went to Lexington last week to be examined in the State University for mine foreman. Mr. Tucker made a high grade in that line.

Miss Nannie Belle Harrison, of Owensboro, is visiting the family of Mr. John Harrison this week.

Mr. Flemming Render, who was mashed badly by slate falling on him in the mines, is improving.

Mr. Hubert Taylor has sold his interest in his meat shop here and moved to a farm near Rochester. He will enter the agricultural business.

Messrs. A. T. French and Ben Sharp made a business trip to Owensboro Saturday.

GOAT PROVED THE THIEF OF GOVERNOR'S PAPERS

Frankfort, Ky., March 25.—Buck, a goat, pet of the men employed by a coal dealer with office and yard opposite the Governor's Mansion, has been convicted of stealing all the newspapers delivered at the mansion. The offense is of long standing, but the culprit was not discovered until this morning, when Buck was found standing on the front porch of the mansion, leisurely ly chewing up the morning paper and enjoying it as much as if it had been the finest quality of alfalfa or California oats.

Governor Willson has been missing his papers for some time, and has been a constant kicker with the newdealers and local newspapers because his papers were missing.

Carriers were threatened with losing their heads and the whole affair assumed a very disagreeable and warlike condition. The carriers insisted that they left the papers, and finally it was decided to employ a detective to find the thief, and the result was that Buck was caught.

MAXWELL.

March 27.—Our prayer meeting at New Bethel is progressing nicely. Rev. J. W. Crowe filled his regular appointment at New Bethel Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Eber Spark and sister, Miss Lotty, of Hartford, visited Mrs. Abbie Barr Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Crowe went to Hartford Monday.

Mr. Ellis Johnson went to Owensboro Saturday and returned Sunday.

New Bethel choir is practicing for the convention at Pleasant Hill the fifth Sunday in April.

Notice to Claimants.

All persons having claims against the estate of S. F. Jones, deceased, are hereby notified to present same to me, at my residence, one and one-half miles west of Centertown, Kentucky, properly proven, on or before May 1, 1911, or they will be forever barred. All persons indebted to the estate by note, or account must settle at once, as the estate has to be wound up.
